

The New Children's Museum Elects Rohan Freeman to its Board of Trustees

WEST HARTFORD, Conn (July 16, 2015) – The New Children's Museum has announced that Rohan Freeman, P.E. has been elected to the institution's Board of Trustees.

Freeman is the Founder and President of Freeman Companies, LLC and brings with him a background in both engineering and children's charities.

Freeman says his appointment is a "wonderful opportunity that allows me to continue my focus of making the world a better place for kids. With my engineering background, I'm hoping that I can have a positive influence on the museum's ability to expose more kids to science, engineering and astronomy."

Freeman is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, U.S. Green Building Council, Construction Institute, and Greater New England Minority Supplier Diversity Council. He is also among a select group of alumni to be inducted into the UCONN School of Engineering's Academy of Distinguished Engineers.

"Rohan Freeman, P.E. brings to [The New Children's Museum] a lifelong dedication to the development and success of our community's youth." says Board President Peter Stevens, "He has truly grasped the meaning of experiential learning and will bring his high level of energy and dedication to the Board's leadership."

The New Children's Museum is positioned as a premier STEAM education center, integrating science, technology, engineering, art, and math. Home to over 100 live animals, the Museum features hands-on science exhibits, out-of-this-world digital planetarium shows, and programs for young children and families.

The New Children's Museum and Roaring Brook Nature Center are the region's premiere destinations for science and nature exploration. The New Children's Museum and Preschool are located at 950 Trout Brook Drive in West Hartford and Roaring Brook Nature Center is located at 70 Gracey Road in Canton.
