Kidtoons Brings Spookley the Square Pumpkin
To the Travelers Science Dome for six shows in October

Halloween themed show has message of celebrating our differences.

West Hartford, Conn., October 4, 2011—Spookley the Square Pumpkin is coming to The Children's Museum's Travelers Science Dome Planetarium for six performances only, Friday through Sunday, October 21, 22 and 23 and October 28, 29 and 30 at 4:30pm. Tickets are $4 per person for members of The Children's Museum/Roaring Brook Nature Center and $5 for non-members. The Children's Museum is located at 950 Trout Brook Drive in West Hartford. Tickets for Spookley the Square Pumpkin may be purchased by calling 860.231.2830 x44, or online at www.thechildrensmuseumct.org. Passes and discount coupons may not be used for this special presentation.

In a world where "the only good pumpkins are round pumpkins," Spookley the Square Pumpkin is often teased by the other pumpkins because of his odd shape. Soon, Spookley is befriended by Edgar, Allen and Poe, three hilarious spiders who convince Spookley that square or not, he has the right to be the pick of the pumpkin patch on Halloween.

Spookley will appeal to children between ages three and eight, with charming characters and a message that it's okay to be different. Written and created by Joe Troiano, the film tells the story of a square pumpkin living in a round pumpkin patch on Holiday Hill Farm. Although Spookley initially faces ridicule from his fellow patch-mates, he goes on to save the day during a terrible storm. As a result, all the pumpkins in the patch learn that it is the thing that makes you different that makes you special.

Spookley the Square Pumpkin is rated “G” by the Motion Picture Association of America and is produced by Kidtoons and Holiday Hill Farm. Its October release coincides with activities across the country in observation of National Bullying Prevention Month.
